

Rest assured that your document will convey the correct meaning in the target language

Executive Communication offers a full range of translation and proofreading services.

Due to the nature of this work Executive Communication applies its Quality Assurance methods to guarantee the best quality for each project requested.

Our Translators are equipped with the newest technology and software packages enabling them to produce efficiently and deliver high quality documents as the nature of the job entails.

Proofreading is also done with the same attention and care as the translations. Any necessary amendments or corrections are made according to the needs of the syntax, vocabulary and style of the text provided and always, of course, according to the company's needs and requests.

Emerging and Established Markets Germany, India, Russia, Spain, and others, catalogues,